If a postmaster believes that an overage in one employee's credit should be offset against a shortage in another employee's credit because a relationship between the differences exists, secure the written agreement of the employee from whom the overage is to be withdrawn.

A stamp credit is the value of the stamp stock consigned to an employee from the main or unit reserve stock in an office. A window clerk stamp credit consists of the supply of each stock item necessary to meet normal customer demand.

Requirements for collecting debts from bargaining unit employees are in ELM 460 and the applicable collective bargaining agreement.

361.1 Bargaining Unit Employees

When in accordance with the conditions and standards set forth in Article 28 of the employee's respective collective bargaining agreement and Employee and Labor Relations Manual (ELM) 460, it is determined that a bargaining unit employee is financially liable to the Postal Service, any demand for payment must be in writing and signed by the postmaster or designee. In addition to notifying the employee of a USPS determination of the existence, nature, and amount of the debt, the demand letter must include the employee's right to challenge the USPS claim. Care must be taken to ensure that any letter of demand served on an employee provides notice of the employee's right to challenge the demand under the applicable collective bargaining agreement.

If an employee files a grievance over a money demand, collection will be delayed until after disposition of the grievance either by settlement with the union or through the grievance arbitration procedure.

Can the Inspection Service withhold employees' salary checks when issued letters of demand?

See Mahon to Burrus Letter dated June 5, 1989 (Exhibit 15)

It is our understanding that the Inspection Service may not withhold employees' salary checks. In seeking to collect a debt from a collective bargaining unit employee, the U.S. Postal Service adheres to the procedural requirements governing the collection of debts as specified in Article 28, Employer Claims, of the National Agreement, and ELM 460, Collection of Postal Debts from Bargaining Unit Employees.

Security Container Cabinet Locks

A potential security deficiency exists with some cabinet locks. These locks are inside fireproof safes and security containers used to store the clerk's accountability drawers and bulk stamp stock. The cabinet locks in security containers manufactured after 1988 use the United States Postal Service 933L lock and should not be a problem.

The locks in question are similar to locker locks, and in some cases are locker locks used to replace original equipment.

Take the following corrective action immediately and include it in all future key checks or lock replacements.

- 1. Compare locker keys provided to any employee with access to stamp stock or to the retail storage space to determine if these keys open the cabinet door locks inside fireproof safes or security containers.
- 2. Replace locks that can be opened by the locker keys by either of the following locks: Illinois Lock Company, cabinet model lock No. 25002Y11, or Master Lock company, model lock No. 1710KD.

Note: These locks should not be master keyed.

Before changing a locker lock, check the key to determine if it meets the criteria described above. In addition to fulfilling the requirements of Handbook F-1, Post Office Accounting Procedures, Section 426.2 (8), conduct a yearly check of the locker locks and keys to ensure the container cabinet locks cannot be comprised.

CHECK ACCEPTANCE

Did the procedures the employee used to accept a bad check conform to the F-1 Handbook regulations and/or a local written or verbal modification of these requirements?

F-1 Handbook, Section 323:

- >> If checks are returned and are determined to be part of a scam to pass bad checks, retain the original check(s) for use by the U.S. Postal Inspection Service. In such cases, the postal inspectors need the original check to prosecute offenders. The value of this type of check should be written off as a claim for loss immediately.
- >> If the clerk did not follow proper acceptance procedures, send the check to CSC. If collection cannot be made from the customer within a reasonable time, request the check from CSC and collect the amount due from the clerk.

Comments:_

Was the customer's name on the bad check list? If so, did the employee have that information available to him/her at the day and time the check was accepted?

F-1 Handbook, Section 324.2:

324.2 Processing a Returned Check

6> Enter the name of the customer on the bad check list. The customer should remain on the list unless the postmaster or district Finance manager approves a customer's request to be removed from the list for a valid reason. The bad check list should be distributed to retail units no less frequently than once an accounting period.

Note: DAO's may establish a local policy that specifies the time period that customers should remain on the bad check list. Such policies should take into account local economic conditions relative to the volume of returned checks. Customers who write a check that is never collected, however, should remain on the bad check list at least one year.

Did management attempt to collect from the customer?

F-1 Handbook, Section 321:

321 Collecting on Returned Checks

The U.S. Postal Service has a contract with CSC Services, a check collection agency, to collect on checks returned by the bank. You must use CSC unless previously authorized by Headquarters to use another service.

You may attempt to collect locally: however, checks should be sent to CSC as soon as possible if local check collection efforts are not successful.

Special Note: DAO's and banking post office postmasters must make arrangements with their banks to have nonsufficient funds checks redeposited (present for payment a second time) automatically.

Comments:_

Did management send the check to the collection agency?

F-1 Handbook, Section 324:

324 Sending a Returned Check to the Collection Agency

324.1 Responsibility

In a non-SFAP banking post office, the postmaster is responsible.

The DAO is responsible for all of its SFAP.

324.2 Processing a Returned Check

- 1> Complete Form 2131, Uncollectible Check Report, for each check by entering the information in the appropriate blocks.
- 3> Send the original Form 2131 along with the original check to CSC Services at the address preprinted on Form 2131.
